

Naval TATA Hockey Academy

Jamshedpur, Jharkhand, India

Full design, civil construct, manufacture and installation of a FIH Global hockey facility with sprinkler system and cast in-situ shock-pad.

Date of Project Completion: June 2017

Base: Asphalt

Surface: WETT Pro EL 12

The Naval Tata Hockey Academy aims to bring Jharkhand's grassroots hockey talent, along with India's past glory in the game, on to the global stage. The academy, which heralds a huge milestone for hockey in India, has been named after the late Sri Naval Tata, an industrialist whose vision is legendary. He was also the former president of the Indian Hockey Federation and extremely passionate about promoting hockey in India.

Designed and conceptualised by Altius Sports, this premier facility uses a texturised monofilament polyethylene yarn and has been strip-glue to the surface with the top of the 'D' already tufted in. With 100% UV stabilized yarn and a concentrated latex compound optimised for backing, this product is hardwearing and dense and at the same time, it is cushioned as well.

Another unique feature of our Wett Pro product is that play is possible both when wet or dry and this ensures conservation of water and helps toward an eco-friendly environment. This unique hockey surface promises unending hours of high-quality play.

At Altius, we call this Love of The Sport!

"At TATA Trusts we view sports as a vehicle for social change. This initiative will promote hockey and sustain the helm of hockey as a national sport in India. We aim to train from the grass root level and our goal is to reach the million hockey legs in the 2018 World Cup which is scheduled to take place in India." said R Venkataramanan, Executive Trustee, Tata Trusts.
