Sarbananda Singha Stadium, located in Tinsukia, Assam, is a prominent sports infrastructure facility in the region, developed to support grassroots as well as elite-level athletics. The stadium plays a vital role in athlete development across Assam and the North-East, offering modern training infrastructure under the guidance of the Sports Authority of India. With the addition of the World Athletics Class 2 certified athletic track, the stadium is now well-positioned to host competitive events and conduct training programmes, thus strengthening the region's sporting ecosystem.

Our team successfully delivered a turnkey project involving the construction of a 400-meter, 8-lane athletic track using a Sandwich System laid over a professionally prepared asphalt base. The execution included end-to-end planning, surface supply, installation, and quality compliance to ensure long-term performance and athlete safety.

The athletic track has been Class 2 certified by World Athletics (formerly IAAF). All mandatory testing procedures were carried out and successfully completed.

Confirming that the track meets international technical standards for performance, durability and accuracy. This certification enables the venue to host a wide range of competitive athletic events.

The Class 2 certified 400m, 8-lane track supports an extensive range of track and field disciplines as per World Athletics norms. Track events include sprints such as 100m, 200m, and 400m, middle-distance races like 800m and 1500m, and long-distance events including 3000m, 5000m, and 10,000m. The facility also accommodates hurdle races, 3000m steeplechase, and relay events such as 4x100m, 4x400m, and mixed relays. The entire track system was manufactured in Wroclaw, Poland.

In addition to track events, the stadium is equipped to conduct major field events, including long jump, triple jump, high jump, pole vault and throwing disciplines such as shot put, discus throw, hammer throw and javelin throw, making it a comprehensive athletics facility.

A truly great moment for Altius Sports and its entire team – all for the love of the sport!
